Bear wise - new website for bear awareness

- Limit attractants: trash, fertilizer, bird feeders, oak brush (acorns), food in car,
- Soaked ammonia rags on corners as detractant
- Bears have learned to open vertically raised windows
- Only relocate bears that have become a danger to people
- Local bears don't "fully" hibernate - will wake up periodically. Hibernation time frames are getting shorter
- If you see a bear, "haze" them with noise, sprinklers, paint balls, rubber buckshot (CPW will supply if requested), radio/ lights must be non-repetitive - make a loud noise, let them know it's not ok to be in that area. No bb or pellet guns.
- Report if a bear has been in your trash, bird feeders, etc
- Electric fences are recommended - how-tos are on the website
- This time of year, bears are active 20hrs/day

Turkeys

- Population is healthy currently
- Avian flu possible from turkeys to pets/humans - Obvious if they have it (get very sick, quickly)
- Do not handle a sick bird
- Notify if you see a sick bird

Deer

- Call if you see a sick animal, they will come out and assess. If they euthanize, they will remove. If they naturally die on your land, it is your responsibility to remove
- Not transmissible to pets (only deer, elk, moose)

Coyotes/Bobcats/Mountain Lions

- CPW doesn't manage, other than if they become a danger to people
- If a cat caches a kill on your property, call for help to remove

Rabbits

- If you see a bunch of dead rabbits, report. Have had a history of hemorrhagic- is very contagious to other rabbits.

Injured wildlife

- Call the sheriff or CPW, they may come out or give permission to dispatch

Concerns with new construction

CPW - 303-291-7227

- Gus: project manager suggested the HOA requests a continuation of phase 2, directly after phase 1 so there is no delay.

- Only recourse may be to fine home owners for running a business.
